BREAKING NEWS

Israeli Occupation Forces kidnap activist Manal Tamimi, husband Bilal, and son Samer in Nabi Saleh village.

Manal has a history of resisting Israeli oppression, beginning with her leadership in school protests during the First Intifada as part of the student youth movement. Manal has been arrested at least 3 times and narrowly survived an assassination attempt by an Israeli sniper.

Her husband Bilal has also been repeatedly arrested and injured by Israeli forces due to his work as a journalist. Their sons, Osama, Muhammad, and now Samer, have all faced incarceration for resisting the Israeli occupation.

Manal is a member of Mamas Activating Movements for Abolition and Solidarity (MAMAS) and joined us earlier this year in Chicago for a powerful MAMAS panel titled “Chicago to Palestine: Mothering is Radical.”

The incarceration of Manal, her husband, and their sons is further evidence that reproductive justice has always included—and must continue to include—the struggles of Palestinian mothers and families torn apart by Israeli violence.
